

YOUR REFERENCE LIST

YOUR REFERENCE LIST SHOULD APPEAR AT THE END OF YOUR ESSAY. IT PROVIDES THE INFORMATION NECESSARY FOR A READER TO LOCATE AND RETRIEVE ANY SOURCE YOU CITE IN THE ESSAY. EACH SOURCE YOU CITE IN THE ESSAY MUST APPEAR IN YOUR REFERENCE LIST. LIKEWISE, EACH ENTRY IN THE REFERENCE LIST MUST BE CITED IN THE TEXT.

BASIC RULES

According to the sixth edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association:

- Indent your reference list one-half inch from the left margin, excluding the first line of each reference, which should remain flush left. This is called a hanging indent.
- Double-space all references.
- Capitalize only the first word of a title or subtitle of a work. Capitalize all major words in journal titles. Italicize titles of books and journals. Note that the italicizing in these entries includes commas and periods.
- Invert authors' names (last name first); give last name and initials for all authors of a particular work, unless the work has more than six authors (in this case, list the first six authors and then use et al. after the sixth author's name to indicate the rest of the authors). Alphabetize by authors' names listed by last name. If you have more than one work by a particular author, order them by publication date, oldest to newest. List works published before 2000 in full. When an author appears as a sole author and again as the first author of a second work, list the second work first. If the author is not given for a particular source, alphabetize by the title of the piece in the reference list. Use a shortened version of the title for parenthetical citations within the text.
- Use "&" instead of "and" before the author's name when listing multiple authors of a single work.

BASIC FORMS FOR SOURCES IN PRINT

An article in a periodical (such as a journal, newspaper, or magazine)

- Author, A. A., Author, B. B., & Author, C. C. (Year of publication). Title of article. Title of Periodical, volume number (issue number), pages.

You need to list only the volume number if the periodical uses continuous pagination throughout a particular volume. If each issue begins with page 1, then you should list the issue number as well → Title of Periodical, volume number (issue number), pages.

A nonperiodical (such as a book, report, brochure or audiovisual media)

- Author, A. A. (Year of publication). Title of work: Capital letter also for subtitle. Location: Publisher.
- For "Location," you should include the city and state and include the state if the city could be confused with one in another state. Use two-letter postal abbreviations for states.*

Part of a nonperiodical (such as a book chapter or an article in a collection)

- Author, A. A., & Author, B. B. (Year of publication). Title of chapter or article. A. A. Editor (Eds.), Title of book (pages of chapter). Location: Publisher.

When you list the pages of the chapter or essay in parentheses after the book title, use "pp." before the numbers: (pp. 1-21). This abbreviation, however, does not appear before the page numbers in periodical references.

BASIC FORMS FOR ELECTRONIC SOURCES

A web page

- Author, A. A. (Date of publication or revision). Title of full work. Retrieved from <http://web address>

An online journal or magazine

- Author, A. A., & Author, B. B. (Date of publication). Title of article. Title of Journal, volume number. doi:0000000/000000000000

Since online materials can potentially change URLs, APA recommends providing a Digital Object Identifier (DOI), when it is available, as opposed to the URL. DOIs are unique to their documents and consist of a long alphanumeric code.

An online journal or magazine (no DOI assigned)

- Author, A. A., & Author, B. B. (Date of publication). Title of article. Title of Journal, volume number. Retrieved from <http://web address>

E-mail

Because e-mail is a personal communication, not easily retrieved by the general public, no entry should appear in your reference list. Instead, parenthetically cite in text the communicator's name, the fact that it was personal communication, and the date of the communication: The novelist has repeated this idea recently (S. Rushdie, personal communication, May 1, 1995).
